

UP PERISCOPE

Submarine Adventure

Steve Alten

Goliath. Forge, 2002.

A448.g

A supersub with stealth capabilities is hijacked by a Russian-born Captain Nemo-like computer scientist whose personal mission is to rid the world of oppressive governments and force humanity to destroy its nuclear stockpiles.

Robert Ballard & Tony Chiu

Bright Shark. Delacorte, 1992.

B2074.b

Thirty-eight nautical miles off Crete, an American research ship, Fanning II, is conducting a geophysical study when it comes upon what may be the wreckage of Dakar, an Israeli submarine that vanished in 1968. Washington wants to recover the sunken sub's secret cargo. Israel, on the other hand, is determined to keep the cargo forever concealed -- even if it means destroying the American ship along with it.

Edward L. Beach

B3435.r

Run Silent, Run Deep. Holt, Rinehart & Winston, 1955.

An Annapolis two-and-a-half striper with his first fleet submarine command on patrol during World War II.

Larry Bond

Dangerous Ground. Forge, 2005.

B640654.dg

On her final mission, the aging US submarine Memphis is dispatched on a secret mission to locate suspected leaking containers of Russian nuclear fuel on the floor of the Arctic Ocean. But lurking beneath the frigid, black, radioactive waters is a secret far more deadly than anything naval command could imagine--a secret so menacing that the Russians are determined to do anything to prevent it coming to light.

Lothar-Günther Buchheim

The Boat. Knopf, 1975.

B8487.b

Focuses on the experiences of a German submarine patrolling the Atlantic during the fall and winter of 1941 in search of British convoys.

M. Scott Carpenter

The Steel Albatross. Pocket, 1991.

C2183.s

After yet another scandalous incident, Rick Tallman, a renegade from the Navy Top Gun School accepts a last-ditch effort to salvage his career and begins training with the Navy SEALs. Then he is given command of Steel Albatross, a prototype SA-1a submarine that works like a glider and is undetectable to enemy sonar. And when the Soviets prepare to activate a secret underwater power plant that could knock out every computer in the U.S., rendering defense systems inoperable, Tallman's unproven submarine is the country's only hope. Followed by: Deep Flight (1994)

Stephen Coonts

America. St. Martin's, 2001.

C7782.a

Read Admiral Jack Grafton must track down & destroy the world's most technologically advanced nuclear submarine--which is now in the hands of terrorists.

Michael DiMercurio

Maverick daredevil Captain (later Admiral) Michael "Patch" Pacino is the hero of these action-packed stories of advanced weaponry and international intrigue.

Voyage of the Devilfish. Fine, 1992.

D6125.v

Attack of the Seawolf. Fine, 1993.

D6125.a

Phoenix Sub Zero. Fine, 1994.

D6125.p

Sean Flannery

Winner Take All. Forge, 1994.

F5994.w

The Cold War is over. The U.S. and Russia are preparing a high-tech war game called "Operation Pit Bull. But conspirators plot to sabotage the games and provoke nuclear war. On the eve of the mock battle a U.S. ship is sunk by a Russian rogue sub and other renegade subs are sneaking toward Operation Pit Bull, while saboteurs infiltrate the U.S. fleet and reprogram systems to fire armed missiles.

Achilles' Heel. Forge, 1998.

F5994.w

A Russian sub is supposed to lie scuttled in the Barents Sea which serves as Moscow's graveyard for nuclear reactors. But MI analyst Bill Lane suspects that the sub has not sunk at all as he follows a trail of anomalies.

Paul Garrison

Red Sky at Morning. Avon, 2000.

G1942.r

During Fleet Week in NYC, a rogue armada of Chinese attack subs prepare to strike.

John J. Gobbell

The Neptune Strategy. St. Martin's, 2004. G536.n

WWII Destroyer commander Todd Ingram survives the sinking of his ship but the submarine that rescues him is Japanese and Ingram finds himself a prisoner of war. A complex cat-and-mouse hunt commences as the US Navy attempts to save one of its own..

Homer Hickam

The Keeper's Son. T. Dunne, 2003.

H5204.k

A ruthless U-Boat commander planning an attack against the North Carolina coast may hold the key to the mystery that has plagued Coast Guard commander Josh Thurlow for 17 years: what befell his younger brother when he was lost at sea.

Jack Higgins

Thunder Point. Putnam, 1993.

H53.t

Irish terrorist Sean Dillon agrees to help the British government find a sunken German U-boat in which Martin Borman supposedly made his escape. On board are two briefcases full of documents incriminating numerous British officials for their Nazi ties.

Harry Homewood

Final Harbor. McGraw-Hill, 1980.

H753.f

A story of the lives and loves of the crew of the USS Mako as it plays a deadly game of hide and seek with the Japanese Empire in the Pacific during the second World War.

Alistair MacLean

Ice Station Zebra. Doubleday, 1963.

M2222.i

The Dolphin is the only American submarine capable of attempting the daring rescue of a team of British meteorologists trapped on a polar ice cap. But what the sub's crew does not know is that the rescue is a cover-up for an espionage mission.

Philip McCutchan

The Last Farewell. St. Martin's, 1991.

M13698.l

Without a protective escort, Capt. Pacey must guide his ship through treacherous waters on its final voyage from New York to England in 1915. The U-boat commander stalking her has his problems, too.

Strike From the Sea. Morrow, 1978.

R2515.st

Cruising somewhere off Saigon in 1941 is the world's most dangerous submarine and the British navy must capture her for themselves before she is used against them by the enemy.

Patrick Robinson

Nimitz Class. HarperCollins, 1997.

R5617202.n

After the nuclear aircraft carrier USS Thomas Jefferson and its escort is secretly attacked and destroyed, the loss is first thought to be a horrendous accident, but Lt. Commander Bill Baldrige convinces the president that the ship was attacked by a submarine with a nuclear-tipped torpedo. Followed by Kilo Class (1998), H.M.S. Unseen (1999), The Shark Mutiny (2001), Barracuda 945 (2003), & Scimitar SI-2 (2004).

U.S.S. Seawolf. HarCol., 2000.

R5617202.u

The world's deadliest & most advanced submarine is captured by the Chinese, along with its crew.

James Rollins

Ice Hunt. Morrow, 2003.

R6487.i

When an American deep-sea research team operating beneath the Arctic circle discovers that there is something alive inside Ice Station Grendel--a supposedly long-abandoned Soviet facility--scientists, soldiers, intelligence operatives, and unsuspecting civilians are drawn into a dark mystery that could end human life on Earth.

Jeff Rovin

Tempest Down . St. Martin's Griffin, 2004. R767.t

When an experimental US submarine collides with a Chinese submarine sent to observe it, both are trapped under the Antarctic ice and must cooperate to survive.

William Schall

Cabot Station. Avon, 1990.

S28945.c

Reactivated by a mysterious battle involving Soviet submarines in the North Atlantic, Cabot Station--an almost forgotten undersea listening post staffed by seventy men and women--becomes stranded on the ocean floor by subsequent events.

Neville Shute

On the Beach. Morrow, 1957.

N83.on

A nuclear holocaust leaves all the people in the world dead except those in Australia and on board a submarine which probes the southern Pacific for the approaching radiation cloud. When a signal is detected emanating from the coast of California, the sub is sent to investigate.

Craig Thomas

T35724.e

Emerald Decision. HarperPaperbacks, 1990, 1987.

The covert plan was launched in the 1940s. Its content and execution were so lethal and shocking that all evidence of it had to be destroyed. But now its horrifying secret has been uncovered by an American author on a research hunt.

Sea Leopard. Viking, 1981.

T35724.se

"Sea Leopard," a secret anti-sonar device that can render a submarine virtually undetectable, is being tested on board the pride of the British nuclear fleet, the HMS Proteus. When the Russian navy succeeds in luring Proteus into a trap off the coast of Norway a dire and fateful contest is set into motion.

John Wingate

Submarine. Harper, 1986.

W7255.su

An outdated "expendable" diesel submarine, Orcus, is dispatched on a near-suicidal mission in Soviet waters to enable her sister sub, Safari, to find an attack a giant enemy underwater battleship eight times its size. Julian Farge, Orcus's hand-picked captain, stakes his life, his crew, and the future of the Atlantic alliance on the success of the Safari's skipper--a one-time friend who once took from him a lover he cannot forget.

Stuart Woods

Deep Lie. Norton, 1986.

W867.d

Sifting through reams of seemingly unrelated intelligence, CIA analyst Katherine Rule discovers a chilling pattern and an ultra-secret submarine base from which a carefully planned invasion is about to be launched. But no one believes her findings.